

Trumbull County's Storybook Trails

In Northeast Ohio

1. Mosquito Lake State Park Storybook Trail

Bazetta, OH

Nestled across from Imagination Station, the Mosquito Lake State Park Storybook Trail beckons young explorers with views of the lake.

As you follow the half-mile path through the forest, enchanting segments of a children's story unfold. And at the trail's entrance, a free Little Library from the Dolly Parton Free Library System invites readers to dive deeper.

2. Perkins Park StoryWalk Trail

Warren, OH

The Warren-Trumbull County Public Library, United Way of Trumbull County, and the City of Warren have woven words into the very fabric of Perkins Park.

Begin at the end of the UW Born Learning Trail, near the playground, and let the StoryWalk unfold along the walking trail. Each turn reveals a snippet from a beloved book, encouraging families to read, walk, and imagine.

3. Stevens Park StoryWalk Niles, OH

Stevens Park StoryWalk is more than a trail—it's an invitation to explore, imagine, and connect with both literature and nature.

Wander to the right of the playground, past pickleball courts and tennis nets to the entrance near a Little Library. Parking is ample, and the adventure begins and ends at the same spot. With each step, pages from a family-friendly tale come alive.

Storybook Trails are more than just paths—they're portals to wonder combining literacy and nature!

Scan the QR code to discover additional storybook magic

www.TrulyTrumbull.com

The stories at our local Storybook Trails are swapped out regularly!